Policy

Row Ontario is a membership-based organization that brings together groups of individuals from across the province of Ontario in pursuit of rowing and rowing related activities. These activities serve all ages and skill level. Within Row Ontario's community there is a diverse group of individuals and organizations.

To maintain membership within Row Ontario, each Member Club needs to ensure their financial obligations are kept up to date, they provide the requested club information in a timely manner and ensure the club's actions and activities are in keeping with Row Ontario's mission and values.

Any organization wishing to join Row Ontario, in addition to the above, will need to be approved by the Board of Directors before their membership can become active. Additionally, any organization wishing to become part of Row Ontario will need to agree to abide by Row Ontario's relevant policies.

As the provincial sport organization responsible for rowing we work in partnership with Rowing Canada Aviron. Any Row Ontario Member Club must also be a member of Rowing Canada Aviron and individuals with each club must become registered participants with Rowing Canada Aviron.

All members of Member Clubs are considered to be Registered Participants. Registered Participants (athletes, coaches, umpires and volunteers) must register in the appropriate role(s) with Row Ontario and Rowing Canada Aviron (RCA) prior to participating in any rowing program with a Member Club/Association or in any Row Ontario/RCA sanctioned regatta in that role. Participants are only registered after the applicable data has been entered into RCA's computerized registration system (currently Web Registration System – WRS) and their annual registration fees have been paid to Row Ontario and RCA (where applicable).
